The goal of "The Graduate Students Conference in Genetics, Genomics and Evolution" is to create a forum in which PhD students present their current research to an audience that specialize in the different fields of genetics.

In addition, both M.Sc. and PhD students are encouraged to present their work in posters, with the aim of sparking an exchange of ideas and feedback in a more informal setting.

Organizing committee:

Shira Sagie (Technion), Dan Bar Yaacov (BGU), Idan Frumkin (Weizmann), Prof. Karen Avraham (TAU), Dr. Tamar Ben- Yosef (Technion), Dr. Sara Selig (Technion), Prof. Dan Mishmar (BGU), Prof. Yossi Gruenbaum (HUJI).

The conference is supported by the generous contributions of the Ruth and Bruce Rappaport Faculty of Medicine and The Moshe Yanai Fund for the Promotion of international Conferences, Technion- Israel Institute of Technology, The Rappaport Family Institute for Research in the Medical Sciences, the Genetic Society of Israel, i-CORE,
